COXEY IS A VISITOR

Massillon "General" and Army of 14 Visit Charleroi

STAY BUT SHORT TIME

Fourteen weary marchers led by a lad of about 12 riding on a fine looking pony and followed by General Jacob Coxey and his wife riding in a buggy drawn by a mule, composed Covey's army that dragged its way into Charleroi Thursday afternoon. The army attracted much attention because that is the idea of the affair. The general made a speech and the journey continued. According to the general it was the intention to reach Brownsville Friday night, but at the rate of travel the "army" stood a chance of getting only as far as the Belle Vernon bridge.

The army is on its way to Washington from Massillon, Ohio, to tell Congress and President Wilson how to run these United States. The journey is the second one in Coxey's carees and with good fortune and good weather at the rate of travel he is maintaining up the Monongahela valley, the army should be able to reach Washington by the day before the inauguration of President Wilson's successor. Coxey and a band traveled the route to Washington in 1894.

The general marched his army to a point above Fallowfield avenue on Fifth street and then after introducing his son David to sing a song, the general gave vent to a few vinegary remarks about the currency question and various other topics of the day. He found fault with the government's system of dealing with the currency —though he didn't state that his real source of complaint was lack of a sufficiency of currency. He gave the banks the dickens because they weren't run to suit his ideas and told about wrongful practices in distribution and so forth. He assailed the administration at Washington and ended up by offering some books for sale that, adimttedly, he prepared himself.

From the appearance of Coxey's army the individual members wouldn't add any to the scenery of a drawing room. They were much the worse for wear and won some sympathy because they were tired. From appearances some of the party had never received a formal introduction to such articles as soap and water. The marchers varied in ages. Some looked as though they were mere boys in their teens. One poor fellow hobbled painfully and he worked harder than he would have been compelled to work at a regular job. The general and his family were the only aristocrats in the party and the general's mule was decorated with sheets of oilcloth that painted up gave out the information that the mule was mortgaged and his owner was too.

Notice.

Dr. G. H. Smith is taking this opportunity to inform his patients that he has met with an accident that will keep him from pursuing his regular duties for at least two weeks. When Dr. Smith is again doing regular work in his office, each and every patient will be informed by mail. With thanks for past patronage and with hopes for a continuance of patronage in the future he begs to remain.

Sincerely,
G. H. Smith

Miners May Go On Strike

Object to Use of New Kind of Explosive in Roscoe Mines

It is rumored that there is to be a strike at the mines at Roscoe. The cause of all the trouble is the question of powder. The River Coal company is requiring the men to use a new kind of explosive called carbonite which is sold to the miners at actual cost, five cents a stick. The caps cost the company four cents a piece and they are sold to the men ot two cents a piece, the company paying one-half the cost of them. The company is requiring the use of this new explosive because it is regarded to be much safer. There was a meeting of miners Tuesday night and the whole matter is postponed until next Thursday. Many are expecting a strike on account of the powder question.

ELDORA PARK SEASON TO OPEN ON MAY 15

Formal Announcement Made of Date--New Territory Acquired to be Fitted up For Athletic Field and Cinder Track

Friday, May 15 is the day that has been selected as the opening date for Eldora park for the season of 1914. The park is being renovated and enlarged, and is being prepared for the most successful season in its history. The last two seasons were good ones but efforts are being made to beat them both this year.

The opening event, as is customary, will be a dance, and this dance will be under the direction of John Weber of Finleyville, the popular dance master who last year held many successful and enjoyable dances at Eldora park. With the opening of the dancing season at the park will be inaugurated a season of unparallelled social activity. Weber will hold weekly dances throughout the season, according to present arrangements.

No dates haxe been announced for the park season save this one of the opening, but the management has booked several picnics already with more promised. The annual school picnics from nearly all the nearby districts will be held at Eldora park the latter part of May or the first part of June, dates having been set aside for these features.

The same careful, conservative management that made a success of the park season last year will be in charge this year. Tom P. Sloan will be the manager and Roy S. Sharpnack will be the assistant manager. Much the same force will be seen about the park this year, many of the last season's employes having been again engaged. As all of the employes, totaling more than a score are residents of the community the park virtually ranks as a home industry.

During the last few weeks new territory has been acquired by the Eldora Amusement company, and will be used for an addition to the park. One of the things that will be constructed is an athletic ground. A baseball field is under contemplation, and preparations have been made to lay out a cinder track that will be the equal of any cinder track of any college athletic field in the state. Complete announcement of these details will be made later, acording to a statement issued today by the management of the company.

WORKING FOR FIELD MEET

Charleroi High School Athletes Busy Under Direction of Coach Lorimer

Coach W. L. Lorimer had his Charleroi high school field and track men out this week working in preparation for the Washington county scholastic field meet to be held at Washington, May 23. This will be the only meet in which Charleroi high will participate. Monongahela and Monessen high schools will engage in a dual meet on May 16.

Austin Stahlman is the captain of the track team and John Hugus the captain of the field team. There is good material to select from for both the team and track.

In the 100 yard dash those showing the best form are Capt. Stahlman, C. Lowstuter and Hill. Hickey and C. Stahlman are pushing the leaders in their work.

Jeffries and H. Carson are showing form in the shot put, and in the pole vault and high jump Capt. Hugus, H. Carson and R. Carson are displaying ability that will make the best of high school athletes go hard to beat. Hugus last year in a valley high school field meet with much ease won in the pole vault and is considered one of the best in the county in vaulting. Hugus has also the palm in the discus throw. C. Pollock and Speers are expected to be his first assistants with the discus.

Cars Run on Through Line

While Committees Discuss New Scale Conductors and Motormen Work

While efforts are being made by the committee from the employes of the Pittsburg Railways company and officials of the company to arbitrate their differences, cars are being run as usual. Their wage scale expired Thursday. It is generally believed that an agreement will be reached so that the conductors and motormen will continue at work on this line, though on what terms is not surmised. Nothing of the results of the meeting of the officials and the employes' committee in Pittsburg has been learned by the men on the Pittsburg-Charleroi line.

NOTIFIED TO REPORT

Players of Charleroi Governors Sent Letters by Wreath

NEW OUTFIELDER SIGNED

John R. Bane of Fredericktown, an outfielder will report next Wednesday with other players for the training season of two weeks prior to the league opening on May 20. Bane is a young man 22 years old who stands 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 170 pounds. Last year he played outfield for Bethany College, and during the college season he accumulated a batting average of .365, and fielded at .987. After school closed he played in the Frick league in Fayette county and hit the ball on the nose for an average of .460.

Last fall Scout Hickman of the Cleveland Naps "found" Bane, and he was farmed out to the Petersboro, Canada, club of the Canadian League, a fast class B circuit, but his parents would not permit him to go to Canada, so Curley Blount, who is manager of the Petersboro Club decided to give Bane his release so as he could land a berth near his home. Bane arrived in Charleroi Thursday and spent an hour with President P. B. Wreath the result of which was that John decided to cast his lot with the Charleroi Governors.

President Wreath is much pleased over the acquisition of this youngster as no less than three of the other clubs in the league were after him. In fact the Clarksburg club made him an offer of $25 a month more than he was offered to play here. President Wreath said, "I had the best of them because I saw him first."

Myron Whitehead, of Sharon, has arrived. Myron is an affable young man and has already made several friends among the fans about town. He is an infielder and can also burn up the ground in the outer garden.

Official notices were mailed out to the players Thursday by President P. B. Wreath to report on May 6. As a rule players want to stay at home until the last minute before they re-

TWO MEN KILLED

Monongahela Valley Mine Accidents Result in Two Deaths

ONE IS ELECTROCUTED

Two men were killed from accidents in two Monongahela valley mines this week. One of them was Gorden Rowe, of California, who was fatally hurt at the LaBelle mine, Brownsville, and who died at Memorial hospital at Monongahela. He was employed as a machine man. Wednesday while he was at work a chain broke and a piece of heavy machinery struck him on the chest causing internal injuries.

The dead man was 35 years old. He had spent practically all his life in California until he took the position at the LaBelle mines. His family joined him there but two years ago. His wife and one small daughter survive. He also leaves his parents and several brothers and sisters.

Joseph Mogrose of California was killed in a peculiar manner in the Crescent mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company. Mosgrose was carrying an augur in the mine when the end of the augur came in contact with an exposed electric wire. He was instantly electrocuted. Coroner James T. Hagan is investigating both cases.

CIRCUS NEXT TUESDAY SHOWS OF CONSEQUENCE

Messrs. Jones Bros. and Wilson have labored for years to perfect animal performances they are presenting all over the world, placing different acts with other circus proprietors in all parts of the globe, to give the public an insight into the hugeness of this undertaking. Let it be known that it has taken them more than two years to assemble their different acts to be ready for the years inauguration of an entirely new amusement enterprise. They will show in Charleroi next Tuesday, May 5.

This brilliant and remarkable succession of innumerable and nine unknown wonders, is found in two distinct departments, one representing domestic trained animals, consisting of high school saddle horses, trick horses, trained ponies, goats, dogs, monkeys, etc. The other trained wild animals of every description consisting of lions, leopards, tigers, elephants, bears, wolves, hyenas, zebras, etc., comprising what is beyond question the most valuable collection of wild beasts in existence.

The most valuable wild animal in the world is embraced in this collection. A midget hippopotamus, the first one ever brought to this country. It was only a few years ago that these diminutive specimens of the hippopotamus family were discovered in the interior of Africa, and they created a sensation in scientific circles. There has been quite a rivalry among circus proprietors to secure one of these much prized specimens but as they are found in the interior of an almost inaccessible country, but few have ever found their way to civilization. Jones Bros.' and Wilson's Shows are indeed fortunate in securing one of these much sought after attractions.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

Just now the plowman is most essentially the man of the hour. All over this broad land is the man behind the plow, lines over shoulder, guiding his team up and down the furrow. Individually his presence may not impress you, but his absence just now as a body would cause more anxiety than the cessation of any other industry. Upon the preservation or expansion of the plowline depends the real prosperity of the country.

From dawn until dark in most instances does the plowman pursue his weary way. Sometimes you see him on the skyline of the hill as you go rushing by on the train; sometimes he is in the depths of valleys; again he is clinging to the hillside, with his team and primitive implement so important in the destiny of the human race. The single furrow that he cuts with his plow considered superficially is but a pin scratch on the earth's surface, but it is this that has advanced man from a state of savagery to the high type of civilization which we now enjoy. To a certain extent the complications of modern industry have obscured the plowman from the vision of the industrial field, but the latter is more dependent today than ever on the solitary worker out in the open who is just now putting in 10 to 16 hours a day cutting his furrow a little less laborously, perhaps but just as patiently, as did his progenitors with the crooked stick and hump backed oxen back in the days of the Pharaohs.

The plowman as a worker is not spectacular. He does not move and act in groups. He belongs to no organization, yet his product is never boycotted. It couldn't be, because what he produces is the basic staff of life. Every other industrial worker in the country might stop work and the people would still live—somehow; but let the plowman stop work and famine, destruction and death would overspread the land.

GAINING SLOWLY.

Women have suffrage of some kind in all but sixteen of the American states. They have full suffrage in nine states, almost full suffrage in one state—Illinois—and school suffrage, or taxpaying suffrage, or the right to vote on bond questions, in twenty-four states, says an exchange. Amendments permitting women to have full suffrage are now pending in Montana, the Dakotas, Nevada, Ohio, and Nebraska. Experience shows that four out of the six states will grant women full suffrage. In 1915 women in nearly a score of the states will vote for president.

In New York, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Massachusetts the suffrage amendment has passed the legislature once and has to pass it again, before it is submitted, but as the legislature in three of these states meets annually, it is still possible for these states to submit the amendment so that the women may vote for president.

By 1920, if the present movement is not checked, national women suffrage will be a fact, and the day that all the women vote, national prohibition is but a few days off; child labor becomes outlawed, legalized vice will be abolished, and in just that much, the procession moves onward toward that flickering illusive mirage, ever dancing on the horizon, but never nearer, that men call the millenium.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

General Coxey says that the Republican party skins you from the head down, the Democratic party skins you from the feet up and the Bull Moose party begins in the middle and skins both ways. Now will some good kind-hearted Socialist loan the general a dollar.

Even if the Mexican muddle is straightened out the country will have to borrow somebody to run for president.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Do you know that farming still outranks either the anthracite or bituminous coal mining industries in the state?" said a citizen the other day who has a perchant for statistics. "According to the latest reports of the secretary of internal affairs, 7,865,200 acres were cultivated in Pennsylvania in 1912, and they produced crops with a market value of $176,275,000. I noted the figures down. Here they are if you want to use them.

"In 1912 the total market value of all the bituminous coal mined in the state was $160,616,712. The market value of the anthracite mined within our borders that year was $68,040,395, slightly more than the value of the bituminous. Either branch of the industry, however, is less important in monetary value than the farming industry.

"Pennsylvania is not classed as a farming state, but the value of the products and the labor that industry affords, still cuts more of a swath than most people imagine."

"If I turn out on Good Roads Day" remarked a Charleroi merchant, "I will devote my efforts to improving the road between here and Speers. "Recently I had occasion to deliver some goods to a patron in Speers, and although the place is in sight of Charleroi the delivery wagon, to reach it, had to drive in an opposite direction to North Charleroi, cross the Charleroi-Monessen bridge, take the route over the hill by way of Pricedale, thence to Belle Vernon, and then cross the bridge there to Speers. Speers is virtually a part of Charleroi, and think of the trouble and expense of reaching it with a delivery wagon.

"My recent experiences makes me think of Bill Nye's objection to New York department stores; you had to wait while they took your money around by way of Ft. Wayne and Chicago to get it changed."

HOW TO KEEP ACTIVE

When Old Age Overtakes Us

Mrs. John Widmayer of Jackson, Mich., says: "Although 69 years of age, and naturally, because of my advanced age, in an enfeebled condition I can truthfully say that Vinol has done wonders to keep me as active as I am. It is the best medicine to create strength that I ever saw. This spring I was very much run down and worn out but I took Vinol and soon felt stronger and able to work about the house. I can recommend Vinol as a very invigorating tonic."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin and sluggish—take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicinal—body-building properties of cods' livers, with the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength creators in the world for aged people.

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Piper Bros. Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

Advantages of a Checking Account

Do you know that 90 per cent of commercial transactions are made without the exchange of actual cash? This for the two great reasons—Safety and Efficiency. And these two reasons apply as well to the modest business as to big Wall street operations. When you give your check you do not waste one moment counting money.

Of greater importance is the fact that your check automatically gives you a receipt.

AMONG THE THEATRES

PALACE—CHARLEROI.

An exceptionally good vaudeville program was presented at the Palace theatre this week. Virginia Herold and company presented a high class comedy sketch entitled, "His Busy Day." Swor and Greene, a clever team of singers and dancers entertained with some of the latest song hits. As a conclusion to the vaudeville program La Fleaur presented a novelty act. One of the weeks picture features was "The Awakening of Donno Isolla" with the noted actress Miss Marion Leonard, in the leading role. For Monday Manager Barnhart has programmed Miss Gene Gauntier in "A Fight for a Birthright" and also three other good pictures.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

The first circus to appear in Charleroi was the four reel production of the Hagenback and Wallace shows at the Coyle theatre. Everything of interest connected with a circus was shown including the unloading of cars erection of tents and the regular three ring performance. The fun work of the clowns and the antics of trained animals were particularly interesting to both young and old. This was only one of the many good features of this weeks program Manager Coyle has booked some excellent features for the coming week

LYRIC—CHARLEROI.

One of the leading features at the Lyric theatre this week was a sensational and thrilling picture shown the San Francisco earthquake. "The Uphill Climb," was a striking and absorbing story of a mother's wish that her ward marry her son to redeem him. A story of frontier life is told in the exciting picture. "The Battle of Elderbush Gulch." The picture is made impressive by the beautiful and natural Western scenery. One of the comedy pictures of the week was, "Andy Plays Hero". Sidney Drew. the noted and popular movie actor was featured in "Never Again" "Officer John Donovan" was another feature of the weeks program.

THE DUQUESNE—PITTSBURG.

Harry Davis Monday night received telegraphic release from William Gillette of the rights for production of that well-known American playwright's thrilling Civil War drame "Secret Service," and it will be the offering of the Harry Davis Players at the Duquesne next week, beginning Monday matinee. May 4 and continuing twice daily. As soon as it was apparent that a conflict was imminent between American and Mexican arms. Mr. Davis began negotiations for the play. None of the civil war dramas, not excepting Bronson Howard's "Shennandoah" has enjoyed the popularity of "Secret Service." It is a gripping, appealing story. intermingled with patriotism, love. chivalry. strife and heart-interest.

"Secret Service" will be presented with all the scenic effects and stage settings that made the original Gillette metropolitan production notable. Advance sale of seats is now on at the box office of the Duquesne.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

Forty-five minutes of musical comedy—a Complete Broadway show in a single act—will be the attraction par excellance in next week's program of vaudeville in the Grand Opera House. It is Jesse Lasky's "The Red Heads" and when it has filled this engagement in Mr. Davis' delightful house of polite varieties. it will add to its other distinctions the record of being the only attraction of its kind that has ever played a return date in this theatre in a single season. Pittsburg saw "The Red Heads" in September and liked the production so well that it would have been retained for a protracted run at that time but other contracts made this quite impossible. Mr. Davis, however. immediately contracted for the first open time Mr. Lasky had at his disposal and that's why we are again to be regaled with the charming music and delectable fun of this little operetta.

Mr. Davis promises lots of variety in next week's show in addition to this gorgeous musical comedy production. One of the particularly interesting numbers will be contributed by Charles Ahearn and his comedy cycling company from Gertrude Hoffman's spectacular revue. It is one of the funniest acts anywhere for Mr. Ahearn is a buffoon whose inventive genius is responsible for many of the biggest laughing hits of latter days.

A little playlet called "The Partners" will be effectively interpreted by George M. Fisher and Harry Green supported by Gracia DeMont.

Eva Shirley. one of the youngest prima donnas in vaudeville. will be heard in a cycle of songs sung in a mellow voice. Nelson and Nelson are to do some difficult acrobatic feats. Four or five other acts, all in keeping with the Grand's standard. are also announced.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

The Aborn English Grand Opera Company which has given Pittsburg two spring seasons of excellent grand opera productions will make their third annual visit to the Alvin Theatre in that city. beginning Monday, May 4 The leading artists to appear in the Pittsburg performances, will come each week from the Aborn companies in other cities, and practically the entire cast will be changed every week, by this system of exchanging favorites between the five Aborn companies.

The first week at the Alvin will be devoted to Bizet's brilliant masterpiece "Carmen," with a double cast of principals dividing the eight performances of the week. including Bertha Shalek, Jayne Herbert, Orville Harrold. Domenico Russo. Louis Kreidler. Morton Adkins. Alfred Kaufman, Lena Mason. Philip Branson. William Schuster, Florence Coughlan. Helena Alberts and others. A large chorus and selected orchestra of soloists will remain at the Alvin during the entire Aborn run, and an elaborate production of scenery, costumes and effects will be brought there for each weekly offering.

There will be eight performances each week including the usual six nights and matinees on Wednesdays and Saturdays. The offerings for the later weeks will be Offenbach's "The Tales of Hoffman." Gounod's "Faust," Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor," Puccini's "Madam Butterfly" and Verdi's "Il Trovatore," for a week each in the order named.

Seats are now on sale for all performances of the engagement, and these are available to mail orders as well as to personal calls at the box office. Money orders accompanying these mail reservations should be made out to John B. Reynolds, Alvin Theatre, Pittsburg. The prices for all performances are 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Solidarity

EVERYONE has not agreed to all the demands of street car employees. But when they demanded recognition of their union, and the right to unite for mutual benefit, then a united voice sounded forth with one accord, not only commending immediate and positive demands, but willing to go the limit backing them up. This is real solidarity and the thing that makes the working class great. We differ in opinions but we are one in purpose. The people of this valley are no more loyal to their class than the membership of the Charleroi Progressive Co-operative Association are to our methods of doing business, with all extra expenses eliminated, for while the population of our towns has doubled in the last 10 years, our membership has grown from 25 to 949 members.

OUR system and success is the wonder and envy of all our competitors. Right is might, and will always have loyal support, whether a union or a Co-operative Association.
